Congress Want To Know Details of
The Manner in Which Money Was Spent During Campaigns.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Aug. 13.—Senator Root and Senator La Follette engaged in a wordy clash today over whether Mr. La Follette favored legislation in the postoffice appropriation bill which would sanction a strike of government employees.When Mr. Root asked the Wisconsin senator a direct question to that effect, Mr. La Follette shouted that "he refused to be trapped by the senator from New York."Mr. Root insisted that La Follette withdrew the remark saying it was offensive."If the remark is offensive I will modify it," said La Follette."It is offensive," returned Senator Root. "I have asked the senator the direct question. What is his position in regard to the right of a postal employee to strike?""I do not sanction legislation which would in any way authorize strikes on the part of postal employees," replied Mr. La Follette and the squall blew over with several senators remarking that a false issue had been raised.An attempt to amend the postoffice appropriation bill to prohibit postal employees from joining secret organizations outside the department was defeated in the senate today, 51 to 26.Senator La Follette today refused to go further with his charge that his mail had been rifled by postoffice officials who wanted to know about an investigation into service conditions the senator was investigating.The senate finally agreed to the house provision with two amendments by Senator Reed.One would allow the department to remove employees who are members of an organization affiliated with any outside organization which impedes an obligation to strike or assist in a strike against the United States. The second declared that the rights of any individual in the government service to petition congress to furnish information to congress should not be interfered with.In the midst of protests from the republican side, Speaker Clark declared today declared the wool bill passed over President Taft's veto by a vote of 174 to 80.The vote was 174 to pass it, 80 against it and 10 voting present.
There were 264 members in the chamber. Speaker Clark ruled that two-thirds of those voting could pass the bill. Republicans claimed it required two-thirds of those present or 176.A great disturbance followed the ruling.
Representative James T. Lloyd of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee in 1905 today told the senate campaign fund investigation committee had no absolute record of his committee receipts and expenditures for that year, but he was certain that the receipts were $27,500 and expenditures about $100 less.The sale of campaign literature brought in $7,000. Charles E. Keene of New York turned in $1,600 for speeches he desired to have distributed. Champ Clark and Francis Burton Harrison were principle contributors from the floor of the house, each giving $200.Other members contributed amounts ranging from $25 up. Through Senator Jones of Arkansas $3,500 was turned into the committee. Mr. Lloyd did not know from what sources the contribution came. Herman Fisher of New York gave $2,500, said Mr.
Lloyd and so did W. G. Conrad of Montana and R. P. Daniel of Kentucky.Investigation of the operations of interstate commerce law was asked in a resolution today by Senator Kenyon. Particular inquiry was asked into the interstate commerce commission's progress in devising a more practicable and equitable scheme of rate making; what proof the commission requests respective challenges rates; what burdens are imposed on the public in attempting to secure relief; how common carriers may discriminate between localities and between commodities and class freight.
President Taft has removed from office W. K. Landis, postmaster at San Juan Porto Rico and has nominated R. H. Todd of Porto Rico in his place.GROCERS' AGREEMENT WITH SUGAR TRUSTTestimony Brought Out in Trial at Denver Showing That Rebates
Were Given Grocers'
Association.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Denver, Colo., Aug. 13.—The taking of testimony here in the government suit against the so-called "sugar trust" in an effort to bring about its dissolution, continued today. A new side was presented when Charles S.
Hurd, former secretary of the Colorado Wholesale Grocers' association, and C. F. Best, formerly a wholesale grocer, testified regarding an agreement that the wholesale grocers' association entered into with the sugar combine in 1904. By agreement, according to testimony, the wholesale dealers received rebates from the sugar company to recompense them for losses incurred prior to this agreement.ARE REACHING THREE MEN "HIGHER UP" IN
THE GRAFT PROBINGNew York Authorities Do Not Mean to Allow Any Guilty One to Escape Drag-net.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Aug. 13.—Blackmail extorted for gambling and disorderly houses in New York city is said to find its way into the pockets of three men "higher up" who are the real heads of the graft syndicate that provides police protection for a price to the underworld.Information has been placed in the hands of District Attorney Whitman by private detectives working with him on the Rosenthal case that these men "higher up" are a lawyer, hotel proprietor who claims strong political affiliations, and a police official.
Two police inspectors also are said to be prodding richly from graft.District Attorney Whitman now is convinced that "Black Jack" Rose told the truth when he said that at least $2,400,000 was collected from gambling houses in one section of New York city alone. The district attorney is not willing to hazard a guess on the total amount of blackmail extorted, but he is convinced it runs into millions.Private detectives reported to the district attorney that under the present system of doing things the grafters were protected from the complaints of the victims, it being one of the boasts that one of the men "high-

Lieut. Charles Becker.

er up" was influential enough to prevent trouble. Whether such influence could be delivered is being investigated.District Attorney Whitman is said to have been furnished with a list of names of prominent persons who played in various gambling houses.
It is said these persons will be subpoenaed to give information.It became known today that the discovery of Lieutenant Becker's safety deposit box came through the manager of an up town bank who voluntarily went to the district attorney's office with the information that Becker had engaged a box there last November.He said Becker and his wife had visited the vault on about fourteen occasions. As Becker is not charged with theft, District Attorney Whitman had no power to open the box. It is announced that the coroner's inquest into Rosenthal's death will be held on Aug. 15.SCHEPPS MAINTAINS DISCREET SILENCEWill Not Discuss Any Phase of the Rosenthal Affair Pending the Arrival of New York Detectives.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 13.—Sam Schepps is being held here subject to the order of District Attorney Whitman of New York in connection with the Rosenthal case. He adhered to his determination not to discuss any phase of the Rosenthal affair after his arrest. His arrest is most remarkable according to Chief Leonard because in the description given by the New York police his height is given as four inches taller. His detention was expected to take definite form today with the arrival of the representatives of the New York police department.Sam Schepps held in custody by police of Hot Springs today authorized the following statement for the Associated Press: "I want to say that every sensational story that has been sent out from Hot Springs which quotes me either directly or indirectly as having made any confession of any connection as regards the police graft, white slave traffic, etc., I brand as maliciously false, made out of the whole cloth. I want the newspapers to know for a certainty that this interview which I am willing to sign and swear to is the first and only statement made by me to the representative of any newspaper whatever.
As regards the killing of Rosenthal I have made no confession. I have nothing to confess. Mr. Whitman knows this. The newspaper men who have asked me for some statement know it."POLICEMAN SHOT BY AN ITALIAN BANDITWest Allis Officer Shot When He Attempted to Arrest Members of Gang of Four.[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, Aug. 13.—Patrolman Charles Korn of West Allis, thirty years old, was shot twice and perhaps mortally wounded early today when he attempted to arrest four Italians, one of whom earlier had probably fatally shot a Waukesha saloon-keeper. The men were believed to have started for Milwaukee, walking over the C. & N. W. track, when Korn saw them and shouted, "Throw up your hands; you are under arrest."
One of the men laughed derisively and then the officer started for them. The men turned and ran but one Italian stopped and fired twice, the bullet entering Korn's lung and upper abdomen.Following the second attack by the Italians within a period of a few hours a search for the men was started in which sheriff, deputies and police of four counties and a large posse of citizens of West Allis are participating. After the shooting the West Allis officer the Italians fled west and are said to be headed towards New Butler.ROOSEVELT ENJOYS man's walk" was to be probably twenty miles with a picnic luncheon in the middle of the day. Mrs. Roosevelt hours later by auto to overtake the pedestrians. Colonel Roosevelt, since his return from Chicago, has given

AS FINAL SOLUTIONLanglade County Farmer, Running For Assembly, Advances Henry George Idea As His Platform.[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Aug. 12.—That the single tax idea made famous by Henry George may be taken up as a feasible method of taxation in Wisconsin, displacing the present system, is foreasted by recent events. Chief of these is the announcement of the candidacy of Edward Nordam, a well known farmer of Langlade county, for the democratic nomination for the assembly on a platform in which the single tax is his principal issue. He comes out openly with the single tax idea as his primary legislative weapon in the event of his election. It is known, also, that in taking this stand Mr. Nordam will have support of unquestionably influential character. The personnel of this backing cannot be stated.Mr. Nordam's pronouncement comes as a timely chapter in the agitation for the development of northern Wisconsin, and in the controversy over the income tax. He claims that the remedies for all the land evils and taxation troubles can be found in the single tax.On this point he says:
"The remedy for the evils of land speculation consists in a few changes in our assessment laws whereby the whole or as much as possible of the taxes would fall on the value of land regardless of improvements. By this system 2 tracts of land of equal fertility and advantage of location one covered with stones, stumps and underbrush the other cleared of such rubbish, put under cultivation and supplied with suitable buildings, would each pay the same amount of tax, the object being to exempt the products of labor and tax only the natural advantages monopolized by the owner regardless of whether such advantages were made use of or not. This would raise the taxes on wild land and lower them on improved land, would encourage the upbuilding and development of the country, and discourage the holding of natural resources out of use on speculation, would make the speculators glad to desist from their dog-in-the-manger policy and to employ their capital in legitimate business, that is in the production, transportation and exchange of commodities. It would make idle land permanently cheap, since no one could afford to pay the taxes on it unless he actually used the land and produced wealth with it."YOUNG WOMEN HELD

IN CASES WITHOUT JURYInteresting Study of Wisconsin Decis-

Madison, Wis., Aug. 13.—In connection with a study of Wisconsin court decisions made by Gilbert E. Roe, formerly of Madison, the author says his figures show that "more errors are committed by the trial court in matters decided without a jury than in those where a jury passes upon the facts."Mr. Roe sought to determine the proportion of Wisconsin decisions likely to be wrong according to the standards of the supreme court, even under the present so-called slow methods of justice, which permit some time for consideration and deliberation.
Of the 254 cases reported in three volumes of the Wis. supreme court reports, 174 were affirmed and 110 reversed. The record shows that in 314 cases the appeal to the highest court was taken from verdicts by the jury and in 170 cases they were taken from decisions by the court.WESTERN CANADA STOCK

WRITES CONCERNING IMMINENT DANGER OF CAR SHORTAGE

Chairman of Western Railways Association Has Written Letter to Secretary Lane of Commercial Club, Outlining Situation.

Secretary F. E. Lane of the Commercial club of this city has received from the office of Chairman W. A. Garrett of the Association of Western Railways, at Chicago, under the date of August 9, a letter which deals with the possibilities of a car shortage this fall, and urges that steps be taken to prevent such a happening. The letter deals quite minutely with conditions as they are likely to exist, and sets forth clearly the need for action. The letter is as follows:

The time is here for the railways and shippers of the United States to begin active and energetic preparations to prevent a car shortage. The indications are that if they do not begin such preparations at once they will be confronted next October with the worst situation that has existed since October, 1907, just before the panic. No railway man or shipper needs to be told what that situation was. None needs to be told what was the condition in the preceding fall and winter of 1906-1907. Railway facilities were inadequate to move the business; yards and terminals were congested; and heavy loss to the railways, the shippers and the public resulted.

Why do I think we are likely to be confronted with a similar condition this fall unless all concerned join hands and heartily co-operate to prevent it? The belief is based on the car surplus and shortage figures of the American Railway association. The latest figures we have show the car situation on July 18, 1912. Let me see what was the situation on practically the same date in each year of the last preceding four, and what followed.

On July 22, 1908, the car surplus was 308,580, and the shortage 599, a net surplus of 308,171. On October 28, 1908, the surplus had been reduced to 110,912 and the shortage had increased to 10,339, leaving a net surplus of 100,773. This was a decline in available cars since July of 208,098.

On July 21, 1909, the surplus was 243,354, and the shortage 339, making a net surplus of 243,015 cars. On October 27, 1909, the surplus had been reduced to 30,336, and the shortage had increased to 36,636, leaving a net shortage of 5,740 cars. This was a reduction in the available car supply since July of 248,755.

On July 19, 1910, the surplus was 134,594, and the shortage 1,293, making a net surplus of 133,301. On October 26, the surplus was down to 13,072, and the shortage up to 21,806, making a net shortage of 8,734 cars. This was a reduction in the available car supply since July of 122,125.

On July 12, 1911, the surplus was 150,433, and the shortage 1,361, making a net surplus of 149,072. By October 25 the surplus was down to 33,306, and the shortage up to 18,771, leaving a net surplus of 20,532. This was a reduction in the available car supply since July of 128,540 cars.

In these four years the reduction in the net car supply between the third week in July and the third week in October varied from 128,540 to 248,755 cars. On July 18, 1912, the surplus was 75,389, and the shortage plus was 75,389, and the shortage plus was 4,667, making a net surplus of 68,922. Therefore, if the reduction in the available car supply between July and October, 1912, be only equal to the smallest reduction that has taken place in the same period in any of the preceding four years, viz.: 128,540 cars, we would be confronted on October 25 with a net shortage of 59,618 cars. If the reduction in the available supply of cars should be as great as it was in 1909, we would face on October 25 a shortage of 179,833 cars.

The situation created by even the smaller of these shortages would be appalling and the resulting losses suffered by all commercial, industrial and transportation interests enormous. Conditions that are likely to cause a heavy demand for, and a rapid reduction in the supply of, cars exist. The amount of traffic handled varies greatly during different parts of the year. During about eight months there usually are large car surpluses. During about four months, beginning around October 1st, there are apt to be shortages. This is owing chiefly to the fact that this is the season of the harvest crop movement. Now, the crop prospects in the West this year are unusually good. That helps to make the prospect of a car shortage unusually bad.

The railway managements are doing and will do everything that they can to provide for satisfactory handling of the traffic. Their net earnings per mile were less in the fiscal year 1911 than they were in 1910, and they were less in 1912 than they were in 1911. Meantime, in 1912, their taxes were increased over 1911 and in 1911 they increased over 1910. These developments, both of them impairing the managers' ability to maintain and develop the properties, have prevented, and are still preventing, them from buying the equipment that, coming the other improvements that they are making, the situation appears to be confronting us is precisely what the managers repeatedly during recent years have predicted would come if the present policy of regulation were not changed. Nevertheless, hampered though they have been, they have made numerous improvements in plants and operating methods. For some years the purchases of equipment were relatively small, but recently they have substantially increased.

The managers, however, cannot do everything. If the bad situation now threatening is to be averted, they must have the hearty support and co-operation of the shippers and consignees of the country. The shippers and consignees can give such support and co-operation in at least two ways: 1. By moving all the lumber, coal, cement and other freight that they can within the next few weeks, instead of delaying and throwing it all on the railways when they are staggered under the crop movement. Mr. Frank T. Bentley, traffic manager of the Illinois Steel company and the Indiana Steel company, anticipating a car shortage this fall, recently issued an appeal and warning to all patrons of these companies to place their orders for cement and other commodities early. Much might be gained if the traffic managers of all the large industrial concerns of the country would follow Mr. Bentley's example and their patrons would act on the advice given. The commercial organizations of the cities and towns can help greatly by urging their members to move all goods as early as possible.

2. Shippers and consignees can greatly help themselves, the railways by loading and unloading all cars delivered to them as expeditiously as practicable. Every time the loading or unloading of a car is needlessly delayed the available supply of cars is needlessly reduced; and no shipper has any right to complain that he is not furnished enough cars if he is by his own acts needlessly and wrongfully reducing the available supply of cars. Commercial organizations cannot render a better service to their members than by urging on them the need for prompt loading and unloading. Cars are furnished for transportation, not for storage; and every one used for storage reduces the number available for transportation.

3. Shippers can help greatly by loading all cars to their capacity as practicable. The more freight there is loaded in each car the less cars will be required to move all of the freight.

There has been a great deal of talk in recent years about the need for better co-operation between railways and shippers. Here is a matter regarding which they can heartily and energetically co-operate to the very great gain of both.

ANNOUNCE FARMERS' DAY PICNIC AT JANSVILLE

Demonstration of Results of Modern Agricultural Methods to Be Held Here September 19th.

Announcement has been made of a farmers' picnic to be held at Jansville, September 19 under the auspices of the University College of Agriculture. This will be one of sixteen farmers' picnic meetings to be held at the state and county fairs in Wisconsin for the purpose of comparing crops grown under the supervision of Prof. C. P. Norgard of the College of Agriculture with those grown by the farmers near by. Prof. Norgard will accompany parties over the fields explaining how the work was done. Each family is expected to bring its own dinner and coffee will be served by the institution. Among the lines of work carried on this year were the best methods of seed corn selection, curing, testing and cultivation; alfalfa, soy-bean, clover, and pea culture.

PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO SAMUEL C. COBB IN FUNERAL SERMON

The Rev. J. W. Laughlin Speaks In Glowing Terms of Lamented Citizen—Many View Remains.

Glowing tribute to the memory of the lamented Samuel C. Cobb, highly esteemed citizen, former mayor and a founder of the city's largest industry, was paid this afternoon by the Rev. J. W. Laughlin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who delivered his funeral sermon at the Congregational church. The body of Mr. Cobb lay in state at the church from 12 until 2 o'clock and large numbers of his friends, employees, and business associates came to take their last look upon his familiar features. The funeral service was held at 2 o'clock after which the body was borne from the church and taken to its last resting place in Oak Hill cemetery. The honorary pall bearers were A. P. Lovejoy, N. L. Carle, M. G. Jeffries, Victor Richardson, J. G. Rexford, George Russell, C. H. Howe, and F. B. Farnsworth. The active pall bearers, who were all Jansville Machine Company men, were F. L. Smith, George Drummond, Frank Dewey, Wellington Wiley, Charles Fish, and Peter Berg.

Among the large number of floral tributes was a magnolia wreath from the directors of the Jansville Machine company, a spray of palm leaves and sweet peas from the directors of the Jansville National Bank, two Masonic emblems, a key stone and a square and compass from the two Masonic societies of which Mr. Cobb was a member, a gala wreath of pink roses from the trustees of the Oak Hill Cemetery Association, a large spray of lilies from the American Steel & Wire Company of Chicago, two sprays of pink roses from Mr. Milliken and Mr. and Mrs. Taylor of South Bend, Indiana, formerly connected with the Machine company, a large spray of gladioli from the Jansville Iron & Steel Company, Youngs and Sons, a spray from the Calumet-Coulter Disc Company, a spray of pink roses from the A. J. Barnard, Buffalo, Bolt Company of Buffalo, New York, and a G. A. R. design.

Reverend Laughlin said in part as follows: The company of neighbors and friends who have gathered here today to pay their respects to Mr. Cobb speaks more eloquently of the high regard in which he was held by the citizens of Jansville than any eulogy that I might pronounce on this occasion.

He was a life such as people love to remember. It was not one which ended prematurely, nor was it one which outlived its usefulness. It came to a close in ripe mature years, surrounded by the people among whom he lived since his youth.

Some men die while their sun is yet in the eastern sky, others when that sun is in its zenith. This man died after his sun had passed its meridian and was well down in the western sky.

Happy the man who in comparatively robust health carries his responsibilities through a busy life and reaches a well rounded career at the age of three score and ten. A head of gray is a crown of glory if it be found in the way of the Lord.

For weeks and months as neighbors and friends we have looked anxiously and inquiringly toward this sorrowing home only to be cheered with the report of a brave fight he was making against a fatal disease. But at last the forces of nature gave way, the battle was over, and a brave soul was set at liberty in the great life of God.

I think of Mr. Cobb as a soldier, a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. Many of you here today bear the scars of battle received in the same war in which he fought. The flag you cherish so fondly he cherished. The badges you wear he wore and to all the friendships war cemented he held tenaciously. What ever other things engaged his life none were allowed to crowd out of his heart that comradeship which was formed on the tented battle field.

To have been a soldier and to have fought in the war of the Rebellion was not enough for him. When he returned home from that war he continued to be a soldier, and on down to the end his face was set resolutely against all forms of political, social and industrial wrong.

If one of you seek an epitaph for him he might look far and wide to find one more appropriate than the words spoken by the hero expiring in a Roman cell, "I have fought a good fight."

Mr. Cobb won for himself an enviable position in the business world. He did not die bequeathing a million to posterity. He founded no college; he built no library; but he left a legacy of honor and moral integrity worth more than any earthly sum of gold which figures can name. His good judgment, his honesty of purpose, his unquestioned integrity gave him a place among business men which is an honor men covet today. The presence of so many of Jansville's business men here today is an eloquent though silent testimony to the deep and lasting esteem in which he was held by the community.

It is no small thing in this day of keen competition to win recognition in the business world by virtue of one's own grasp of affairs. It speaks of a business efficiency and of a moral force which these stirring times demand and which when seen in the character of a man are not without substantial recognition.

I knew Mr. Cobb socially perhaps better than in any other way. I knew his keen sense of humor, his happy, easy manner and the merry twinkle of his eye. You who knew him longer than I will remember his hospitality, his quick repartee, his fondness for a good joke to enliven a social occasion. The members of the Twilight Club and the Social Union will miss his genial presence there and his much appreciated contributions to the moral, social and political discussions of these evenings. He was a companionable man. His wide observation, his good memory, his sense of the fitness of things together with his genial disposition won him a place in the hearts of all who knew him.

Mr. Cobb was a religious man—not of the emotional kind but of a practical kind. He came in to the church late in life; was interested in her charities, but entered slowly into her activities. I am not at liberty at this time to speak of his service to his fellowmen, I could not if I would tell all his deeds of kindness. There is one however which I wish to mention as an illustration of what religion was to him.

A neighbor once had a great grief. It weighed heavily on his heart and home. The black clouds of disappointment and uncertainty hung low, and there was no silver lining. Days dragged their weary length along and no relief came to the troubled mind and heavy heart of this bereaved man.

It was Mr. Cobb who came into this man's life in such a manner as to lead him out from under the cloud of uncertainty and doubt into the sunlight of God. This he did not by suggestion, nor by advice, nor by any character of the neighbor nor on the nature of Providence. He simply asked the neighbor to walk with him, of once, nor twice, but many times these two strolled side by side out of the city into the woods and meadows where the birds were singing and where the flowers were blooming and where the sorrowing man could see God and feel his presence and become conscious that while he might not be able to understand the mystery of life and death he could come into fellowship with the Father of us all. Thus these two friends walked together. They leaned over the fences under the shade of the trees. They wandered wherever their fancy took them, and gradually the shadows began to lift. Dimly, at first, the grief stricken man began to see the light. Presently the sun shone out and lo the whole earth was flooded with his glory. Joy came where there had been grief; hope came where there had been fear. And this man whose heart had been full of doubt became a man of faith and resolution. From that time until the present, for he is among you today, he has been a source of inspiration to others whose hearts have been sorrow laden and whose lives have been clouded.

My friends that is religion. It is what the Master came to do for men. "The spirit of the Lord is upon me," he said, "for he hath anointed me to open the eyes of the blind, to unstop the ears of the deaf, to comfort them that mourn and to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." If a man die shall he live again? That is a question as old as humanity, but it seems like mockery in the presence of our present knowledge. Who believes that a man's life is like a snowflake on the river, a moment seen then gone forever? This is not the end. There is no end. We will change our places of abode. Our manner of life will be different, but a mind so active here will go on throughout the limitless years of God.

Port Shop Shots

by Doc McCarty

Catchers Nunamaker and Cady of the Boston Red Sox are roommates. Nunamaker's finger was hurt in St. Louis and when he was marching toward the bench and Cady toward the plate, Nunamaker turned and said, "Now Cady, get in there and do a good job and keep up the reputation of the room." "When I get through with the game, Nuney," shot back Cady, "they'll forget there ever was a catcher in the league named Nunamaker." Cady has since been doing regular duty and is rated as better than Nunamaker.

Promoters of the baseball players' union hold that so long as a player is owned by a major league club he should receive a major league salary, and if his services are not satisfactory he should be released outright. "This would put an end to farming players."

Young Jack O'Brien, of Philadelphia, recently outpitted Leach Cross by a wide margin in a 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas A. C. in New York. O'Brien fairly tied Cross into knots with scientific boxing. It was the first bout that Cross has lost in nearly two years.

One rule in baseball that needs the attention of the rulemakers is the one that covers interference of the catchers with the batter. In a recent series at Boston, Buddy Ryan decided to attempt to steal home with what would have been the tying run. He figured the pitcher carefully and finally seeing him take a longer windup than usual made a dash for home. Cady, who was catching for Boston, noticed that Ryan had secured a commanding lead and he also observed that the pitch would be so wide that it would be impossible to retire Ryan. He decided to take advantage in the loophole of the rules. As the ball neared the plate, Cady grabbed the bat of the batsman, thereby creating an interference. The ball rolled almost to the stand and everyone thought Ryan had scored. But the umpire sent Ryan back to third and the batsman to first. Both teams kicked on the ruling, but the umpire was right.

Some pitchers are far more effective with certain catchers doing the receiving. On the surface that may seem just like another of the many superstitions that exist among ball players. Never has Bob Groom of Washington shown to better advantage than in the early part of the present year. The easy-going, care-free John Henry was just the man to match the high-strung nervous Groom. Never has Groom been as steady and as effective as with Henry catching. About a month ago Henry suffered an injury to his knee and the catching of Groom fell to Williams and Almsmith. While both are great catchers, Groom couldn't win with them and his percentage suffered a big shrinkage. Groom says: "I have absolute confidence in Henry, and pitching to him is twice as easy as to any other receiver." Many other star pitchers are in the same boat.

RACING SEASON WILL OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

ALL IS READY FOR REVIVAL OF HARNESS RACING IN JANESVILLE.

FAST HORSES READY

One of the Finest Gatherings of Horse Flesh Seen in Southern Wisconsin in Many Days.

With every stable crowded to its capacity, large tents erected with temporary stalls to accommodate the overflow and even several small buildings transformed into stalls, the grounds at the Park Association look like the old days of racing when the Janesville track was known from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast as the center of the attraction during its annual purse races.

The four thousand dollars in purses hung up by the association has brought together some of the best horses in this section of the country. Old time campaigners who have arrived with various strings of nags are as joyed that the Janesville meets are to be resumed and the gatherings become annual affairs.

Several owners who have been here or have come with horses are already making inquiries regarding accommodations for next spring and it would not be surprising if a dozen or more stables with fifty or more horses wintered here this season and did their preliminary work on the association track.

Tomorrow marks the opening of the three days program. It is Ladies' Day, Blue Ribbon day on the program, and all ladies will be admitted free. The card is exceptionally good and will prove most interesting to watch. The Bower City Band will furnish musical inspiration and the indications point to a record-breaking crowd.

There has been considerable talk of asking the merchants to close their stores tomorrow afternoon to make it a genuine half holiday, and it may possibly be accomplished. The original idea was to make Friday the half holiday but objections were raised and it is possible that even if all places do not close some will.

The following is the list of entries for the opening day. There will also be a race for local horses, for a purse of $100 which should prove interesting.

Bathing in Mexico.
Travelers through Mexico usually are much interested in the queer old-time bath tubs which are used in many parts of that country. When the weather is hot the pools and streams absorb some of the general warmth. Therefore, bathers go to the springs where the water is sure to be cool. At these springs one often will find a tub or small bathing pool, hallowed out of the rock. Some of the wealthier Mexicans have these great stone tubs brought into their houses. They are kept cool with running water.

London Fogs Costly.
It is said the London taxpayer is put to an extra expense of $600,000 annually by reason of the prevalence of fog. One gas company alone furnishes gas to the value of $15,000 over and above the normal figure on a single day of fog. The suspension of traffic is another serious item.

My commission expires July 12, 1914.

HORSE RACING.
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the present week mark the revival of harness racing at the Park association track. Years ago Janesville was the center of the country and the race meets held here brought visitors from all parts of the country. In the hey, day of the racing game the old fair grounds track was famous. The decline of the racing, due to many causes, left Janesville off the harness horse map for many years, but with the proposed races starting tomorrow there is every reason to believe that with proper support yearly meets can be held here again which will attract large crowds.

Two years ago the present Park association was organized. Stock was subscribed for the purchase of the property and improvements made. That the public were to have a pleasure ground and recreation park was held out as one of the inducements to prospective stock subscribers. Many gave their funds freely with this in view. The revival of horse racing was discussed and commended and hearty support was given the project to make it successful. Horses from some of the best stables in the middle west are entered for the events scheduled for the coming three days and it is to be hoped citizens will give the races their support by attending in goodly numbers.

THE WARNING.
By a majority of the votes of the citizens of Janesville on January 23d, last, warning was issued to certain individuals that the public did not approve of their methods of conducting business. On that date the voters of Janesville decided that the old method of governing the city by a mayor and council of ten men, was not desirable and decided to adopt the commission form of government. Later, at the primaries in March, the names of two candidates for mayor and four candidates for councilmen, were decided upon as the choice of the majority from a large field of aspirants for office. Then came the election proper in April, and the present officials were chosen. They went into office unpledged to do their duty as they saw it and to meet the demands of the people as evidenced by the vote on January 23d, that the old conditions should be changed. It should have been warning enough, but still one finds that some men, who perhaps enjoyed special privileges under the old regime, believe their rights have been trampled upon and still insist in evading the law and open defiance of laws and ordinances. That these evasions of the law are known to the authorities can not be doubted, and the only question that remains to be answered is, "Why are they permitted to continue unpunished?" The vote on January 23rd should have expressed the desires of the citizens most clearly on the question of compliance with the law than why the delay in punishing the offenders?

While enthusiasm for Judge Karel's nomination for governor on the democratic ticket is rampant and many republicans believe his nomination and election would work wonders, they should not forget that if they vote for a democratic candidate at the primaries they can not vote for a republican. What would Karel be in the governor's chair if his legislature was composed of radical republicans who favored every reform measure proposed. His power would be nil. Look after the legislative problem at the primary and vote for Whittier who stands for a repeal of the income tax law and a business like administration of state affairs.

In the news columns of Monday's Gazette appeared a communication which asked some pointed questions relative to civic conditions. That parts of it were objected to by one of the persons named was to be expected but a full discussion of the subject might bring into the lime light many conditions in the city that would surprise even some of the city officials perhaps. However let it come and clean up once and for all this practice of permitting young girls to be lured to their destruction by the use of wine rooms of disreputable trying places.

The more the average tax payer thinks over the subject the more indignant he becomes at the present income tax law. In fact some of the candidates on the so-called progressive ticket are rather inclined to doubt its wisdom. Mayor Cunningham of Beloit, aspirant for the senatorial nomination, being one of the latest converts to the cause of at least reforming it even if the reformers do not wish it reformed.

The Bull Moose politicians of the state have had a conference with Mc Govern relative to his announcing his support of the Roosevelt candidacy at the coming election. It is to be hoped that if McGovern desires the support of republicans he will steer clear of such an entanglement and stand out clearly in a well defined statement favoring the republican nominees, Taft and Sherman.

"The courtly knights of Maryland," says the Baltimore Sun, "are riding in the lists of the tourney on many a hotly contested field, and the queens of love and beauty were never more lovely or beautiful in all the history of romance." The real Baltimore mint julep certainly does get there.

Jack Johnson says that since he has retired from the ring he can now do as he pleases and enjoy life. Does he think he was setting an example of self-restraint and asceticism before?

Possibly the reason the sea serpent has not made its appearance this summer is that it recognizes the futility of trying to compete with the bull moose-elephant-donkey-horn' dawg menagerie.

If France and Russia are to become closer allies than ever the country which lies between them will be the force which draws them together. Fear of Germany makes strange combinations.

Senator Heyburn says he doesn't think that Thomas Jefferson was much of a statesman. Which would give Thomas Jefferson much satisfaction were he alive to receive the compliment.

John Armstrong Chaloner claims to have communicated with a New Yorker in hell. But he fails to tell what ward of the metropolis he located him in.

"An actor hit a barber in New York because he talked too much." It must be that the New York barbers are using safety razors now.

A Denver minister says that it is a sin to break an egg. That preacher must sometime have been a member of a one-night-stand troupe.

"Hereafter the full duty will be demanded on punk." That's well; there is too much of the home-grown variety here now.

A Chicago woman has been arrested for stealing her cook's jewelry. No wonder it has become so hard to keep "help."

The newest dance of the season is called the "horse trot." But it will have to go some to beat the moose trot.

Nicholas Longworth seems to be devoting his time to watching the score board and saying nothing.

Judge Archbald may not deserve all that is said of him, but he deserves the jolt he is getting.

In the meantime we still have the tariff question and the ultimate consumer with us.

This will surely be a great year for crops, political ones included.

Telephone users know the inconvenience and loss of time involved in making a second or third successive call over a manual telephone—how hard it is to get the operator after the first call is finished and to make her understand. We shall not get full value for the money now being spent on education until we realize that fitness for life is of more importance than fitness for yearly examinations.

Some Words of Wisdom.
"It may be true," said Uncle Eben, "dat riches don't bring happiness. But dat ain't no good argument for goin' to de yuther extreme an' wrestlin' wif debts."

BEGINNING RIGHT.
Harold Durrell of Boston is wise. A graduate of Harvard, son of a wealthy man, society favorite and an athlete who made a record, he has taken his place behind the counter of a small suburban grocery store to learn the business. Clad in the clothes of a grocer's clerk, he is learning how to sell goods and tie up bundles.

"What?" said his friends, shocked. "Harold Durrell clerking in a grocery store! Why should he do such an erratic thing?"
But young Durrell is not erratic. He is just a keen, wide awake, level headed sort of chap, unspoiled by fortune.

However—
He admits his course is rather unusual for a young man so favored. But he says a man cannot begin business at the top of the ladder, and he is determined to show that college life has not unfitted him for serious effort.

Also he is gritty. It is said of him that he is of strong will power, and when he sets out to do a thing, whatever it may be, he usually ends with achievement.

And he is thorough. He says to know a thing well at all one must know it through and through. Therefore he must begin with the alphabet of the grocery trade to qualify for the position higher up.

Wise young Mr. Durrell
His father, a retired jobber, also began at the bottom of the ladder, and, although he wanted his son to do something else, he could not discourage the boy by reciting the hardships incident to the long apprenticeship one must go through to master the grocery business as it should be mastered, as any business should be mastered.

It is pretty plain that if in his college life he got his head up among the stars his feet remained planted on the ground. Many a college graduate's head is "swelled" by his education, and he has failed because he insisted upon starting at the top.

Like young Theodore Roosevelt, who in order to learn the carpet business began as a factory apprentice, so young Durrell begins at the beginning.

Wise youth!
With his college sharpened mind he will make way rapidly and soon will overtake those who denied his mental training began before him.

Lotteries are operated in all important towns and cities of the Dominican republic. In many of the larger cities there are from two to five, practically all under municipal supervision. Seventy per cent. must be given in prizes, 5 per cent. goes for streets and roads, and the rest, less expenses, is divided among the public hospitals, schools, fire departments and charities.

S. W. T. writes: "You will have to erase my name from the membership roll of the Militant Suffragents. I thought I could stick to the bunch, but my wife found it out and I have decided to follow the line of least resistance and allow things to go on as they always have around my house. In my case the time is not ripe to make a stand for my rights. I still believe in the principles of our great order and, I hope you win out. I know that men are not inferior to women, but I can't make the argument stick in my own family. I am very sorry."

PRINCIPAL AT THE JEFFERSON SCHOOL RESIGNS POSITION

Miss Elizabeth Patterson, who for a Number of Years Taught There, Has Resigned—Other Changes in Schools.

Announcement is made today of the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Patterson, principal and teacher of the eighth grade at the Jefferson school, who intends to give up teaching. The announcement comes as a surprise to Miss Patterson's many friends, as it has not generally been known that she had decided not to continue her work at the school. During her term of service Miss Patterson has fulfilled the duties of her work most faithfully, and it was with regret that her resignation was accepted by the board of education. Miss Lucy Akin, who has been principal of the Garfield school, has been named to succeed Miss Patterson.

With the opening of school on September 3, the day after Labor day, a number of other changes in the teaching forces of the public schools will be in effect. The greatest number will be at the high school, where five new teachers have been appointed to take the places of those who resigned at the close of school last June. The new teachers are: Miss Martha McClure, who takes charge of the botany and physical geography classes formerly taught by Miss Mary Armstrong; Miss Frances Hill, who succeeds Miss Cudde Cuyler as physical training instructor, and will teach history; Miss Mabel Cornish, who will teach the domestic science classes in Miss Laura Coleman's place; Miss True Hyland, who becomes assistant in the domestic science department; Gay W. Curtis, who will assist in the commercial department, teach history and coach the athletic teams. The other teachers will be continued in their regular positions, as follows: John Arbuthnot, physics and chemistry; Miss Matilda Drynd, algebra; A. B. West, geometry and agriculture; Miss Grace Monar, English; E. L. Roethe, history; Miss Gertrude Zeininger, English; D. D. Manross, commercial department; Miss Caroline Zeininger, Latin and German; and Miss Helen Vlyman, Latin and Greek. Other changes and appointments in the grade schools of the city include the appointment of Miss Lucy Whitmore, teacher of the eighth grade at the Lincoln school as the successor to Miss Helen Welch, principal, announcement of whose resignation has previously been made. At the Garfield school, Miss Jeanette Cody will take the place as principal, made vacant by the appointment of Miss Akin to Miss Patterson's former position; and Miss Agnes Smith of this city, who has just finished a course in normal school, will be installed as teacher of the fifth grade at the Garfield school in Miss Cody's place.

There are two vacancies at present in the list of teachers at the Adams school, but these will undoubtedly be filled before school opens. These are in the third and sixth grades where teachers have not been found to fill the vacancies caused by the transfer of Miss True Hyland from the third grade to the position of assistant in domestic science at the high school, and by the resignation of Miss Helen Muellerschlaeder. Four vacancies need to be filled at this school, the two being filled. Miss Tassie Nott becomes teacher of the first grade in place of Miss May Henderson, resigned, and Miss Mary Buckmaster will take charge of the work in the second grade, succeeding Miss Jacobs, who also resigned.

Preparations for Opening. Preparations are now being made in the schools throughout the city to have everything in readiness for the opening day of school. Minor repairs are being made where necessary and some small, though not very extensive, improvements are under way. At the high school some small repairing of ceilings and walls is being made. An innovation for more sanitary conditions is being made in the oiling of all the floors of the high school building. An especially prepared oil is being used, which, it is said, will keep the dust from rising from the floor which the movements of the pupils about the rooms tend to stir up.

School Census Uncompleted. The taking of the census of the children of school age in the city has been completed, but the compilation of the required statistics has not yet been finished by Clerk S. C. Burdick, who is engaged in the work. Indications, however, seem to be that the figures of last year. Prospects for the attendance at the opening day of the high school are that there will be about as many as in 1911, when 425 pupils were enrolled.

BONDS SECURED BY LOCAL DEPOSITORS

Local Postal Savings Bank Has Sold Over $600 in Postal Savings Bonds to Patrons.

Over five hundred dollars worth of postal savings bonds have been issued to depositors in the local postal savings bank since it opened, according to Postmaster C. L. Valentine today. The rules governing the use of the postal savings bank provide that all depositors who desire to do so may make application (if they desire) and secure the government bonds, which are issued in denominations of $20, $100 and $500. Most of the bonds bought by locals were of the $100, although there was one small depositor who took one of the $20 bonds. The bonds pay two and a half per cent and are issued semi-annually, being payable July 1 and January 1 of each year. As the interest paid on deposits is only two per cent, some of those who have deposits in Uncle Sam's bank here, draw out their money and secured the bonds. There are now over two hundred depositors in the postal savings bank. The postal savings bank was organized to encourage the saving of small sums of money and none of the deposits received are large ones, the rules providing that not more than $100 per month may be deposited.

The Moon's Troubles.

The sun attracts both the earth and the moon, and as they are always either at different distances from the sun or lie in different directions from the sun, they will be differently attracted by the sun, and hence their relative motions will be disturbed. Thus rise the perturbations of the moon's apparent motions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Aug. 12.—Another advance in the price of hogs was noted on the market today. The tone of the market was satisfactory and trading continued brisk until the 10,000 head received were taken. Several loads brought as high as $3.00 and the market sold above the $3.00 mark. Today's advance averaged five cents throughout the list.

The sheep market was dull with prices ten cents lower. This is the most pronounced slump which has been felt in some time. Receipts heavier than expected and slightly poorer quality are given as the causes.

Beef on the hoof reached its top notch price yesterday when native cattle sold at $14.40 a cwt. Distillers, another grade, were only 10 cents under this price. Montana grassers sold at $9.

Back in 1867 there was a reported sale of steers at $10.25, which was the high price made here last week. The steers sold today were owned by the same man who first secured $10.00 for steers here this year—A. W. Brazz of Tuscola, Ill., one of the best known feeders in this country.

Besides the new price paid for corn fed steers, two other records were set. Range steers brought $8.00, one load of Montana cattle making that figure, while a load of distillery steers went to $10.00, the highest price ever paid for slop fed cattle.

FATALITIES AND MISFORTUNES PURSUE OCCUPANTS OF MISSOURI DWELLING; SUPERTITIOUS BLAME GYPSY'S RESTLESS SPIRIT

House near St. Joseph, Mo., in which many fatalities have occurred.

The restless spirit of a gypsy, slain 20 years ago by a rival in a quarrel over the affections of a girl of the clan, is blamed by the superstitious of the community for a series of fatalities and misfortunes which have occurred to the occupants of a house near St. Joseph, Mo. The house was built by Christopher Scherer for his bride. To him a gypsy prophesied evil things to befall the occupants of the house. He laughed and moved in. A few weeks later he was killed by a train. Death after death has occurred there since, and ill luck marked every venture undertaken by those who have lived in the house. It is now vacant, because after spinal meningitis had claimed his two children the last occupant took the remainder of his family and speedily moved out.

NOTED JAPANESE DIPLOMATS VISIT AMERICA TO SELECT SITE FOR JAPAN'S MILLION DOLLAR PAVILION AT 1915 EXPOSITION

Mayor Ralph of San Francisco greeting Haruki Yamawaki.

Military and civic honors were heaped upon Japan's two exposition commissioners, Haruki Yamawaki and Yoshikatsu Katayama, when they arrived in San Francisco recently to formally select, for their imperial government, the site which the Mikado's people will adorn with a million-dollar pavilion and garden for the 1915 Panama-Pacific exposition. The Japanese diplomats were met by Mayor Ralph of San Francisco and a distinguished body of Californians. They are being shown every courtesy during their short stay. The site-selecting ceremonies are set for July 32.

The Japanese commissioners will leave San Francisco early in August and visit Washington before returning home.

Discovery of Fire.

When and in what manner fire was discovered is unknown. The art of producing fire appears to have been one of the very earliest achievements of man. No people have ever been found without it. Its use may have been suggested to man by the lightning, or by the volcano, or by the accidental spark produced by the use of the stone weapons or utensils, but at any rate its use was discovered so long ago that the memory of the race runneth not to the contrary. Of course, it goes without saying that the use of fire lies at the root of all human progress. The "iron age," which is pre-eminently the age of true civilization, would have been impossible without fire.

Dramatic Form of Suicide.

A variation of the suicide mania has just come to light in Modena, northern Italy, where a wealthy manufacturer the other day met a fantastic death. He bought a coffin, took it home, and setting fire to some carbon in his room took his place in the coffin to await death. When the maid went to call her master next day she found a card on his door on which was written: "Bring the undertaker to take away my corpse." The police were summoned, and entering the room, they found the coffin with the lid lying on it. In the coffin was the manufacturer, wearing his decorations. His arms were folded, and lying at his feet was a document directing the manner of his obsequies and granting a poudroire to all who attended his funeral.

NUMBER OF VOTERS WILL BE DECREASED

Constitutional Amendment in Regard to Naturalization Causes Some Dissatisfaction.

In many quarters of the state and also in Rock county, are evidences of dissatisfaction over a constitutional amendment adopted in this state a few years ago which will prevent from voting after Dec. 1, 1912, men who have not taken out their second citizenship papers. Until recently a male person who had taken out first papers could vote. Thousands in this state have never held more than their first papers, among them a goodly number of Civil war veterans. Although the constitutional amendment leaves it open for these men to take out their papers before next December, the expense of this legal process will approximate $3 to $7. Many men effected by the law will probably sacrifice their voting privilege rather than pay this amount.

This situation has already become known by candidates for office, but apparently there is no way the situation can be remedied. The constitutional amendment, which was passed in 1908, gives four years to those who have never taken out second papers in which to avail themselves of the opportunity. Those who take out their first papers now will have to wait five years before they can vote. Politicians estimate that the vote will be reduced considerably as a result of this situation. It is claimed that many men who should have taken out their second papers refuse to do so, believing it to be a hardship to bar a man from voting unless he subscribes to further qualifications, after having voted in elections for many years. In some cities it is estimated the vote will be cut from 500 to 1,000, and that in the city of Milwaukee it may amount to several thousand.

Indian Romance Revealed.

The story of an Indian romance was revealed the other day in Indianapolis, when Big Chief Red Fox of the Sioux Indians visited the office of the county clerk and obtained a marriage license to wed Miss Evelyn C. Dunn, a girl of English-Indian parentage, living in that city. On the marriage application the chief's name is William J. Humes. The name of his father is given as Black Eagle, an Indian chief, who is now living in Montana. His mother's name is written as Neawan, and her occupation is given as "squaw." The girl's father is Sitting Bull, Jr., according to the application, and he is said to live in Los Angeles, Cal., and is a retired gold miner. The girl's mother was an English woman, who came to this country and was married to the Indian, Sitting Bull, Jr.

D. C. Bybee, teaming contractor living at 669 Keeling Court, Canton, Ill., is now well rid of a severe and annoying case of kidney trouble. His back pained and he was bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. "I took Kelley Kidney Pills just as directed and in a few days I felt much better. My life and strength seemed to come back, my backache left me, I slept well, and I got up free from headache and dizzy spells. I am now all over my trouble and recommend Foley Kidney Pills to everyone. Badger Drug Co.

FIND YOUR FICTIONAL FAVORITES

In the Up-to-the Minute Blue Book of Bookdom—Unique Dictionary Just Issued.

Who is your favorite character in fiction? Is it "Marjorie Daw" or the dashing "D'Artagnan," the wistful "Marchioness" or "Terence Mulvaney"? No matter who it is or from what books pages this personage stepped into your life, try to find him or her in the Blue Book of Bookdom just issued.

You will be interested in discovering whether or not your conception of the greatness of the character agrees with the opinion of the compiler of this list of the great people of the make-believe regions of fiction. There have been dictionaries of proper names and fictional classifications by the score, but they are generally found to deal with books and book people of several decades ago, and it is likely enough that the brain child which has caught your fancy was born but little more than yesterday.

Harry Thurston Peck, Ph. D., Litt. D., LL. D., an authority upon literature, has compiled this latest work on character classification which many believe to be in a class by itself.

But that is just one man's opinion. So wait a moment. Dr. Peck was for many years the editor of the The Bookman; he was until recently professor of English at Columbia University, and he has himself written many books ranging in variety from the New International Encyclopedia, and works on the Latin and other ancient classics to the most fascinating stories for children.

Don't you think it would be interesting to know if his opinion agrees with yours? His Blue Book is but one of the many surprises waiting for you between the limp leather covers of the New Websterian 1912 Dictionary. Illustrated.

This Dictionary is NOT published by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary or by their successors.

THE SHEPARD OF THE HILLS
Gaskill and Mac Vitty announce the production at Myers Theatre Sunday Aug. 25, matinee and evening, of Harold Bell Wright's dramatization of his very popular novel, "The Shepard of the Hills." In making the dramatization, Mr. Wright collaborated with Mr. Elsbury W. Reynolds. "The Shepard of the Hills" is a story of humor and pathos told in a simple, direct manner; of love, mysticry and heroism, with its scenes all in the Ozark mountains, southern Missouri and Arkansas, where the author lived and preached for many years. There are several exciting incidents, including the night ride of the splendid heroine over the hills through the storm; an attack upon the shepherd, and the moral victory of a man when a panther is about to spring upon his rival, but there is no melodramatic touch to the play.

The Honest Prisoner.
A prisoner within these last few days appeared at our county jail, bringing his own commitment. The constable, he said, was busy in his harvest and could not come with him. Mystery of the Pyramids.
One of the mysteries of the great pyramids in Egypt is how they were built in the sand. How did the slaves lift these gigantic boulders into place, especially since that was in the days when machines were unknown. Servants and historians believe sloping ways were built leading to the pyramids and the great stones hauled into place.

NEW INVENTION SAVES LIVES.

Chicago, Ill.—By the use of a remarkable invention of a German scientist the lives of two women and a little girl have been restored after they had been unconscious and dying from asphyxiation. The new invention is called the Pulmotor. It was invented by a German scientist and is offered for free use to the city of Chicago by the electrical company. The victims were Mrs. Laura Stender, Mrs. May Cook, and Mildred Stender. Through escaping gas in the stove all three were rendered unconscious. A neighbor discovered their plight and immediately telephoned to a physician and to the electrical company for the device. The physician, when he arrived, pronounced all three parties dead, but the invention which arrived a few minutes later injected oxygen into their lungs, drawing out the poisonous gases and within a few minutes all were sufficiently recovered to tell of their occurrence.

METEORIC DISPLAY EXPECTED TONIGHT

Star-Gazers Watch For Series of Meteoric Showers Which Are Visible in Northeastern Heavens.

Astronomers at the United States naval observatory have announced that a series of meteoric showers are due in the northeastern heavens. Star-gazers last evening witnessed a display and the showers will continue visible to the naked eye Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. The savants explain that this phenomenon is caused by the earth passing through the thickest portion of the meteoric particles known as Perseus showers, the effect of which is that the heavens abound with swiftly moving shooting stars darting in all directions. It is pointed out that the display ought to be unusually brilliant this year as there is no moon to obscure its brightness.

Escaped Anyway.

"Here you are back from your first trip," said the merchant to his new salesman. "Did you bring back many orders?"

"Orders!" and the salesman gasped. "I was glad enough to escape with my life."

CHILDREN NEED EXTRA CARE IN HOT WEATHER

Summer Heat Dangerous to Little Ones If Bowels Are Neglected.

The mother cannot do better for her children than to train them, from infancy, to regularity of the bowels. Chronic constipation in later life can be avoided if the child learns early the need for a daily evacuation of the poisonous stomach waste.

There will, of course, be times when the little one will become constipated and bilious. In hot weather, especially, immediate attention is necessary, as such serious illness results from inactive bowels. Salts, cathartics, purgatives, and similar drastic irritants are harsh and violent and only bring temporary relief while disturbing the whole system. A gentle, pleasant bowel stimulant, like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is far preferable. Syrup Pepsin contains no narcotic drug, being composed of simple laxative herbs combined with pepsin, and acts gently, in a natural manner, on stomach, bowels and liver. By thoroughly cleansing the bowels and removing the foreign matter that irritates and inflames the tissue, it will quickly check the summer diarrhoea that is so weakening in its effect.

Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the larger sizes being intended for family use. A free trial bottle, postpaid, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 406 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

ANNUAL GATHERING OF ONSGARD FAMILY

Second Reunion of Descendant of Ole and Barbara Osgard Held at Orfordville Sunday.

Orfordville, Aug. 12.—The second annual reunion of the Osgard family was held Sunday in the Chris Osgard grove, two miles east of town. This reunion is a yearly meeting of the six branches of the descendants of Ole and Barbara Osgard, who came to America from Norway in 1848. They number over two hundred, and nearly all are settled in Wisconsin and Minnesota. The majority, however, reside in or near the county of Rock, and therefore the annual gatherings are held in this neighborhood. The heads of the family now living are Nels Osgard of Spring Grove, Minn., Sven O. Osgard and Ole Osgard, and Mrs. Carrie Megorden of Orfordville. Ole Osgard is an invalid, but the other three are staunch handsome examples of time-honored rugged Scandinavians. S. O. Osgard is the president of the association, Sam O. Osgard, the secretary, and Chris Osgard, the treasurer. Ollie Peterson has undertaken the enormous task of arranging the data for the family genealogy.

The various related families, residents in Orfordville and vicinity, outdo each other in hospitality towards the relatives from afar. The ties of relationship in this immense family are very strong, and these annual affairs are looked for and thought over for months before, and the recollection of the two days' meeting is a pleasant memory for months to come.

In the June issue of The Monthly Cyclopaedia and Medical Bulletin of Philadelphia, edited by Charles E. de M. Sajous, M. D., L. L. D., appears the following:

"Many physicians have come to realize that caffeine, as daily consumed in coffee and tea, has much to do with the causation of many annoying ailments that formerly were obscurely diagnosed and vaguely treated. It stands to reason that this alkaloid, when taken in daily doses of six or more grains, must exert a harmful action on the nervous circulation, and digestive systems. Its action must also modify the action of other drugs prescribed by the physicians."

Continuing this article says:

"Postum, the well known cereal beverage, made of clean hard wheat and a small percentage of molasses, has been the means of effecting an easy change from coffee and its harmful stimulant—caffeine—to a wholesome, harmless, nourishing beverage."

Eminent analysts such as Prof. J. W. Mallet of the University of Virginia have proven that a cup of coffee (only three-fifths coffee and the rest milk) contains about 2 1/2 grains of caffeine.

A Government report issued April 4th, this year, from the Bureau of Chemistry shows that the deadly coffee drug, caffeine, administered in small doses, caused the death of cats, dogs, rabbits and guinea pigs in a few hours.

SELFISHNESS.

(By Howard L. Rann.)

SELFISHNESS is that quality in human nature which enables a man to appropriate all of the visible white meat, while his wife and children struggle blindly with the gizzard and the neck.

Some people are more selfish than others, and insist upon taking all of the bedding on a cold night. This is one of the most criminal forms of selfishness a man ought to be punished by a fine or imprisonment, or both.

A great many people try to cure themselves of selfishness by lying in bed and meditating upon a remedy; while somebody else splits the kindling. Many a man has been entirely cured by allowing his wife to do all of the work around the house except lacing his shoes.

Nothing will totally eradicate selfishness from the human system except the last sad rites, and even then some men try to beat death by willing their property to some eleemosynary institution and driving their wives to the sewing machine and the Monday wash.

The height of selfishness, as practiced in this country, is displayed by the farmer politician who goes to town four days a week to discuss the third party, while his wife drives the mower and milks sixteen cows in a temperature that would suffocate a smokestack.

The most unselfish people we have are women. A woman will pass up the moving picture show, the recreation park and a meeting of the Outing club in order to press her husband's trousers and breathe new life and shape into his listle-thread socks.

Selfishness is the only quality which will let a man with such a wife as this play Kelly pool six nights a week, while she stays at home alone and associates with the flatiron and the darning egg.

If money, or the love of it, is the root of all evil, selfishness is the cause of all the cross-grained cussedness which sours life. An unselfish person seldom gets the best cut out of the sardine, but he won't have to look back with a shiver when the family physician throws up the sponge.

If Your Spinal Column Is In Perfect Condition You Are Well--If It Is Imperfect You Are Sick.

All the Ills Which Flesh is Heir to Can Be Traced Directly to a Subluxated Vertebra in the Spinal Column.

That the spinal cord, the nerve center of the whole system, is the most important factor in the well-being of man or woman is a well-known fact, but few people realize how easily the column of vertebra that make up the backbone may be put out of alignment. A fall, a blow, a severe jar, may throw one of the vertebrae out of perfect articulation. Chiropactic adjustments replace the vertebra, nerve pressure brought about by the subluxated column ceases, Nature steps in and makes you well again.

Ray Fever Sufferers Quickly Relieved.

At this time of the year when the presence of some substance in the atmosphere induces a peculiar irritation of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat, which, owing to a subluxation of the vertebra, as shown in the illustration herewith, is weakened and unable to resist. As soon as the disturbing atmospheric influence disappears the symptoms, which it occasions, subside and health is seemingly restored. But as soon as the atmosphere produces these irritable substances Ray Fever will again result and continue to result year after year unless you have the Cause removed. If you have suffered from Ray Fever in the past, call and let the Chiropactor remove the cause of this distressing malady.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 13, 1872.—Knowles, The Sculptor.—E. P. Knowles, the Janesville sculptor, has been in Milwaukee since the completion of a bust of Solomon Juneau, the founder of our state metropolis. Mr. Knowles is known to us as an artist of more than ordinary genius and it is with feelings of pride that we republish the following article written by Fred More of the Milwaukee Wisconsin:

Our people of Wisconsin first heard of E. P. Knowles, the sculptor, some three years ago. He was then a young man of Janesville who had worked his way up in a marble shop, and who without previous heralding, stepped forth with a work of art that bore the stamp of genius. He first executed a bust of Hon. James Sutherland, of Rock county; then one of Hon. Alex. Graham, of temperance law notoriety. This was followed by a bust of Gov. Fairchild. These three busts were taken to the capitol two winters ago, where their superiority appeared so manifest that both branches of the legislature, almost unanimously, ordered a marble bust of the first Territorial Governor, Henry Dodge.

—J. J. White, the flute player of the Opera House Orchestra, starts tomorrow for New York City, with the intention of remaining there and entering upon a musical career. Mr. White is one of the original members of the orchestra and to his efforts and ability that organization is indebted for no small portion of its popularity.

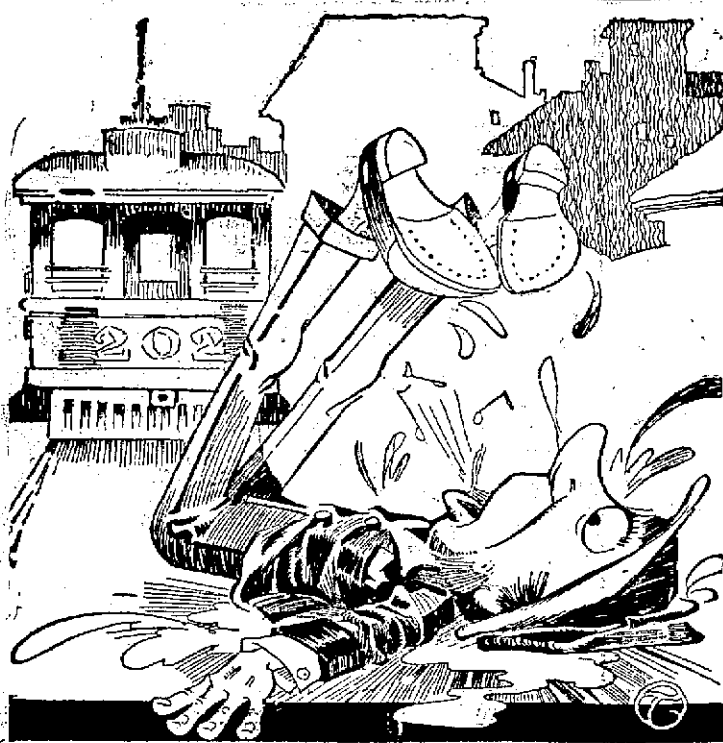

Brief Items.—The drouth has caused most of the small lakes east of Milton village to disappear and the farmers of that locality are procuring soil from the beds for the enrichment of their fields.

Judge Conger has decided in favor of the Young Men's association in the mandamus suit against the city of Janesville.

The storm of last Friday, in the southern part of the county, scattered the grain in stacks and shocks and did considerable damage to shade trees.

The repairs on the upper dam which are now going forward, will strengthen that structure so that there will hardly be a possibility of its giving way from the pressure of the spring floods.

We all desire the world's applause
For strive and strain it's labor
In a worthy cause, but often done in vain.
Reverses come and come again,
And kindred bitter pills;
You cannot win the love of men, unless You pay your bills.

vates his voice and sings like golden lyre, and hopes to make the world rejoice or set the same on fire; "and,"
say the worldly rubbernecks, "he'd fill or hearts with POPULARITY thrills, and be a credit to his sex, if he would pay his bills." One follows up Demosthenes and binds us with a spell, and much he hopes the world to please, and please it passing well; but mankind hears this gay orate, and says, in tone that chills; "He'd be the glory of his state, if he would pay his bills!" No matter to what heights you go, or how you conquer fame, the story of the seeds you owe will cling around your name. And so it's better far to climb the low and humble hills, and leave the shingling heights sublime until you've paid your bills.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY.

general activities should be your you may be avoided thereby. You will be clever and gain health, but sorely troubled with ennui!

Doctor—Hm? Why don't you in-

Society Dame—Gracious! Why, I am not looking for a divorce! Judge.

Ever Philanthropic.
"It is our duty to impress lessons of thrift and foresight on our fellow-men," said Mr. Dustin Stax. "When I started in life I owed fifty dollars."
"Of course you have repaid the man who lent it, with interest?"
"No. That old friend needs a les-years longer to teach him not to be so careless with his money."

PUBLIC IS ASKED TO AID IN THE MATTER
Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are many number of concerns in the country who make a living through a worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted.
All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.
